EduBridge
Final Presentation

Chotan Sharma, Marcus Abad-Dominguez, Kai Dulak

What is EduBridge?

- It's supposed to be a website for teaching templates

- Teachers can use it to make creating assignments an easier process

- They can also upload template to the website through a form and review process

What Has Changed Since the Midterm?

- Had struggles with Android Studio and Java for our goals with the project

- We chose to change from a mobile application to a website

- This led to us using react and node.js for frontend and Mongodb and express for backend.

- We started to use JavaScript and react bootstraps and css for styling.

Our Goals we reached

- We were able to create a page that holds templates for assignments for teachers
- Teachers can download the templates for word or google document use
- Teachers can also upload new templates for review to be added to the template library
- Able to capture sign up form data from frontend and stored them into backend Mongodb database.

Lesson Name

Lesson Plan for (Class Name) on (Date)
Prepared By (Teachers Names)

Overview and Description:

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetuer adipiscing elit. Aenean commodo ligula eget dolor. Aenean massa. Cum sociis natoque penatibus et magnis dis parturient montes, nascetur ridiculus mus. Donec quam felis, ultricies nec, pellentesque eu, pretium quis, sem. Nulla consequat massa quis enim.

Materials Needed:

1.) (Materials 1)
2.) (Materials 2)
3.) (Materials 3)

Features we haven't reached

- We weren't able to create a large library of templates

- A message system

- A private template library that is user specific

- An authentication with sign-in options

However these can still be added in the future if we continue this project ¯_(ツ)_/¯

Challenges

- Early Planning

- Time Management

- Understanding of Java, and Android Studio

- Team Communication

- Implementation of fully functional backend.

Demo

Demo (backup)

https://youtu.be/eJuMxS4EqyQ

What's Left?

- SRS FInal Delivery

- Documentations

- Front End Changes For nice Visibility

- Preview Images